DEBATING TEAM IS SELECTED FOR 1929-1930 TERMS

Twelve Speakers Are Picked to Represent U. of K. Next Year

THREE TO COMPETE IN INTERNATIONAL MEET

Variety of Subjects Will Feature Next Year's Forensic Meets

The selection of the regular University debating team for the year 1929-30 and the fourth international debating team composed of three University men who will compete with a team from Cambridge University, England, in Lexington, during the first week of December, was made last night in try-outs held in the lecture room of McVey hall.

The subject used by the contestants was, "Do American Colleges Educate?" Students entering the try-outs were given 30 minutes for preparation. The speaking was extemporaneous and students were permitted to choose either the affirmative or the negative side and were given four minutes for their constructive speech and three minutes on rebuttal. Approximately 12 members were chosen for the team, three of which will compose the international debate team.

A series of subjects relevant to work pertaining to high schools, parent-teacher associations, chambers of commerce, business men's clubs, teachers, journalists and university people will be discussed during the coming year. The following subjects are among those which will be discussed:

- "Can the Single Enterprise (the one-horse retailer) Survive?"
- "Does Advertising Do More Harm Than Good?"
- "Is the Newspaper a Social Asset or Liability?"
- "Can Peace Be Secured Through International Agreement?"
- "Are We Educating for Peace or War?"
- "Has the Western Civilization Progressed?"
- "Do the American Colleges Educate?"

Judges at the try-out contests last night were five members of the University faculty: Dean Alvin E. Evans, of the College of Law; L. L. Dantzer, head of the English department; Prof. Ralph Biege, of the German language department; Dr. Paul L. Boynton, of the psychology department; and Prof. James W. Martin, of the College of Commerce. The 1928-29 debating season closed last Tuesday evening with the thirtieth debate of the year, a contest between Kentucky and the University of Mississippi.

University Co-eds Hear Miss Jackson

Vocational Service Lecturer Addresses Freshman and Sophomore Women

Miss Florence Jackson, consultant to the personnel bureau of Wellesley College, and for the past year acting president of the Eastern College Personnel Officers' Association, is offering a vocational service to the women of the University of Kentucky.

Miss Jackson addressed the freshmen women Wednesday afternoon and will speak to the sophomore women Thursday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the recreation room of Patterson hall. She will have personal conferences with the junior and senior women today.

For fourteen years Miss Jackson was the director of the Appointment Bureau of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston, during which time she acted as lecturer and vocational consultant for women at a number of colleges and universities, and was responsible for the placement and consulting services offered by the union. She is now offering vocational services to women in the schools, junior and senior colleges, and universities throughout the country.

Old Inquisition Will Hold No Terrors Compared to New Examination System

By Lois Purcell

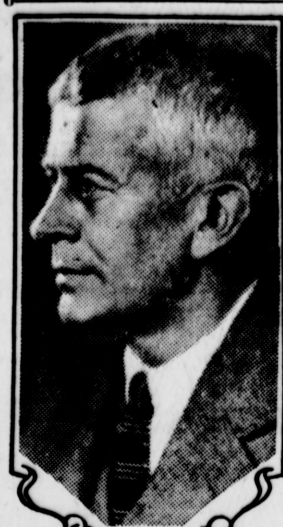

Not content with having burdened our lives in the past with quizzes, mid-semester, and hours-long finals, University officials now impose upon us the painful necessity of taking not one but several finals. And that's in each class, too. (Such ignorance they should excuse us from all but one, at least.)

Travel with me for a moment, if you will, to the week of May 27, in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-nine. Of course the ordeal begins are that, with the burning of the proverbial midnight electric candles for the previous week-end, while eds and co-eds elude each other with the agility of sleuths on the close trail of arch-conspirators.

Then the penance begins; penance for not having studied every night during the year, penance for the day you cut classes to go to the spring race meet, penance for sleeping through class after class, penance for electing the hardest course

May Issue of Letters Has Brilliant Literary Array

Commencement Speaker

COMMENCEMENT PLANS REVEALED

The 62nd annual commencement exercises of the University will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning, June 3, in the new Memorial building, and will conclude the program of the week which opens with Military field day, Wednesday, May 29. Prof. W. Lewis Roberts is in charge of the program.

Dr. Carl Van Doren, famous as editor-in-chief of the Literary Guild, and associate professor of English at Columbia University, will be the principal speaker at the graduation exercises. The Rt. Rev. Henry Pryor Almon Abbott, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Lexington, will address the senior class at the annual baccalaureate exercises Sunday afternoon, June 2.

The R. O. T. C. graduation exercises will be held Wednesday afternoon of commencement week on Stoll field in connection with the Military field day program. Thursday will be given to the dedication of the Memorial hall, and on Friday the Senior ball will be held in the Men's gymnasium.

Saturday is Alumni day and the program includes a breakfast for the senior class given by Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey at Maxwell Place, and class day exercises in the morning, an art exhibit and reception in the afternoon, and class reunion banquet at night. Try-outs for 1930 Annual Staff to Be Held Next Week

Virgil L. Couch, editor-in-chief of the 1930 Kentuckian, announces that anyone interested in trying out for the staff of next year's annual must report to the Kentuckian office in the basement of the Men's gymnasium some afternoon next week. "The method to be followed this year is an innovation on the University campus, as the associate editors formerly were chosen for political and personal reasons," according to Mr. Couch.

The theme of the Kentuckian for 1930 is to be a portrayal of the period from the World War to the present time. The business manager for next year is J. Henry Lewis, and all other positions are open to applicants.

"Letters," literary representative for the University of Kentucky and for the state of Kentucky as a whole, will appear in its seventh issue on May 1. The standard of worth set by the previous issues of the periodical is amply upheld in this most recent issue.

The block prints, "An Italian Landscape" and "End of Winslow Street," by Edward Fisk, of the art department of the University, are especially noteworthy. It may be well to mention that the "black and white" sketches that have appeared in the magazine during the last three issues have aroused much comment in American art circles.

"The Letter Box," a feature that the editorial staff of the magazine is very desirous of fostering, contains two old letters that date back to the '50's. Citizens of Kentucky are urged by the editors to send in all old communications that reflect the background of the state. It is believed that, hidden in Kentucky, there are many old missives that will flash new lights on the social and economic history of the state. It may be added that not only old letters, but also any literary endeavors by the people from all over Kentucky will be welcomed by the editor of "Letters."

Prizes Are Offered

To encourage original work, "Letters" wishes to announce that there are a number of prizes offered this year: the Cale Young Rice prize of $10; two prizes by Chi Delta Phi, literary sorority at the University, of $20 each for prose and poetry; the L. L. Dantzer prize of $10; and the Porter prize of $10. The Cale Young Rice prize is for Kentuckians who are not students at the University, while the remainder are open to University students.

Noted University of Chicago Educator Pleads With Students to Accept Educational Advantages Offered Them.

Dr. Charles Hubbard Judd, psychologist, author and educator, of the University of Chicago, was the speaker at the ninth University convocation held at the third hour Tuesday morning in the Men's gymnasium. The subject of Dr. Judd's address was "Our Social Heritage."

Dr. Judd stated that the theory of education is that if the attention of the students can be held long enough, they can be given values that will enable them to do things that they couldn't otherwise do, and to start the development of civilization where the previous generation left off. He traced the evolution of the American educational scheme, the English language and the modern numeral system. He compared and contrasted them with the earlier stages of development and with other systems in use at the present time, showing in what ways they are advantageous, and endeavoring to bring an appreciation of them into the minds of the students who are enjoying them.

The lecturer also said that our American scheme of education is unique in the world. It originated in Europe and was developed to its present state in America, where now one out of every two attend secondary schools, compared to one out of twelve in European countries. In conclusion Dr. Judd made a plea to the students to take full advantage of these "products of social cooperation" given to the young people of this generation by those of earlier generations.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF LAW COLLEGE WILL BE TONIGHT

Thomas B. McGregor Will Be Principal Speaker at Lafayette

JUDGE ROBERT GORDON WILL BE TOASTMASTER

About 100 Students, Faculty Members and Families to Attend Dinner

Between 75 and 100 students, members of the faculty, and alumni of the College of Law are expected to attend the annual banquet of the college which will be held this evening at 6:30 o'clock in the ballroom of the Lafayette hotel. Thomas B. McGregor, former attorney general of Kentucky and chairman of the state board of bar examiners, will be the principal speaker for the occasion.

Other speakers will include the toastmaster, Judge Robert G. Gordon, a prominent Louisville attorney of the firm of Gordon and Quinn; Dean Alvin E. Evans, who will introduce the speakers; John Y. Brown, a former graduate of the University who is now practicing law in Lexington with the firm of Brown and Bird, and Chester D. Silvers, of Somerset, Ky., who is a senior in the College of Law and will represent the students.

The guests of honor at the banquet will be Governor Flem D. Sampson, Judge Richard C. Stoll, and Judge D. A. McCandless, chief justice of the Kentucky Court of Appeals. The Woman's Club of the law school has also been invited. The club is composed of wives of faculty members and students and mothers of students.

Rice, has announced the entire program for the dinner session as follows: Greetings—Dean Evans. Vocal Solo—Austin Graves, accompanied on the piano by Mary Grace Heavenridge.

Last Edition of Kampus Kat to Be Sold May 3

Now that the time is at hand for a fitting climax to a most successful year, the "Kampus Kat" will, for its third and last edition of the year, appear on May Day.

The first edition of the year came out in a rainstorm, the second during the feverish excitement of the basketball tournament, and now that the sap has begun to run more slowly and the lachrymal glands of the seniors are in preparation for the big flood in June, the last edition of Kentucky's humorous newspaper will appear.

With a subtlety of wit that drives home its point without offense, the Kat has sprung some interesting data concerning campus personages and their doings. Without the Kat to acquaint the masses some of us would graduate and never know the inner workings of this great student body.

"All work and no fun" tends to produce a feeling of extreme ennui, of a dissatisfaction with life, and, according to most eminent psychologists with whom we are acquainted, will in time make Jack, Jill or any other inhabitant of this world's surface a dull person.

Do you remember Caesar's admonition about the danger of lean men around. He opined (and he was mighty darn right) that lean men such as Cassius would cramp your style, sooner or later. With Caesar's last words still ringing in our ears the editors and staff of the Kat agreed that the responsibility of carrying out the great work that has gone before on the Kat should rest on the shoulders of the round figure of Edwards Templin, erstwhile journalist and assistant managing editor of The Kernel. The editors, former editors, and staff feel sure that with such a jolly sense of humor the new editor is fully qualified to replace O. K. Barnes, retiring editor and funmaker at any and all times.

W. F. Galloway Translates Play From Italian for University Theater

The Guignol theater will conclude their offerings for the year with the presentation of "The Flight of the Duchess," by Robert Browning, which will open Monday night, April 29, for a week's run. This play will make a fitting close to a most successful season for it is rich both in character roles and thrilling drama.

Adapted from the stage from the poem by Robert Browning by the same name, it has been translated from the Italian by Prof. W. F. Galloway of the English department and will be presented in America for the first time at the Guignol. The Archbishop, S. K. Workman, instructor in the English department; the roles of Conrad and Matteo will be given to Melvin Nollau, senior engineer, and Jack Ramey, arts and sciences sophomore, though it has not been decided which will have each part; Simeonetta, Carolyn Speyer, of Lexington, known for her performance in "The Cassilis Engagement"; Angelica, Jeannette Kimberlin, arts and sciences, who gave such a notable characterization in Glouconda; Maitre Robert, John Neeson, a Sigma Nu and freshman engineer; Rudolph, Verna Law, a freshman who has repeatedly appeared in campus theatricals with much credit; Jacquette, Alice Spalding, Zeta Tau, also well known to local audiences; Master Hyacinthus, Martin Glenn, Delta Chi; Duchess Urrula, Marion Galloway, of Lexington, who is one of the "Fonds" of the season; Duke Urric, Prof. George K. According to Annual Custom Next Week's Issue Will Be Published by Theta Sigma Phi.

The issue of The Kernel that appears May 3 will be published by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national honorary journalistic sorority. At the special request of the executives of the State Federation, Prof. Carl Lampert, head of the music department of the University, presented the oratorio program.

On Wednesday, April 14, the delegates visited the University campus where they made a general tour of the buildings and grounds. Mrs. Lafferty, of the University extension bureau, prepared a bulletin containing a history of the University and a guide to assist the visitors in finding their way about the campus.

Members of Phi Beta, which is the national honorary music and dramatic fraternity on the campus, were joint hostesses with the McDowell club and the Junior McDowell club for the delegates of the convention.

Age of Romance Is Not Dead, Finds Lad Who Dreams of May Day Parade

By Martin R. Glenn

"The Age of Romance has not ceased; it never ceases; it does not, if he will think of it, so much as decline,"—Carlyle.

Beauty is an all-pervading presence. It unfolds to the numberless flowers of spring; it waves in the branches of trees and in the green blades of grass; it haunts the depths of the earth and gleams out in the hues of shells and precious stones. The campus, class rooms, sorority houses and girls' dormitories overflow with beauty. Those men who are alive to it can not lift their eyes without feeling themselves encompassed with it on every side.

From this gorgeous array of feminine charm and pulchritude a beautiful maid has been elevated to the titular throne of Queen of the May, the most popular honor that the male students of this institution can confer upon a co-ed.

Exemplifying grace, poise, charm and physical beauty the new ruler will usher the warm days of spring to the Kentucky campus. Already scores of faithful subjects are scurrying from the four corners of the kingdom to witness the magnificent exhibitions of court splendor on the day that has been officially designated for her coronation.

A monstrous parade headed by the royal music-makers and followed by great multitudes of elegantly costumed attendants will escort Her Majesty, the Queen of the May, to her scintillating throne where one of the most beautiful young maids in the kingdom will present her with the crown of honor.

Queen for a day. Yet the lazy days of spring shall be replaced by the days of other seasons and though the future years shall produce their annual yield of nobility, you shall not be forgotten. You shall represent the charm of our campus, the beauty of Kentucky and the glow of youth. In the hearts of the present student body you shall remain "Queen" forever.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

This issue of the Kentucky Kernel will be the last that will be sent to members of the Alumni Association by the Alumni Office. Beginning in May the "Kentucky Alumnus," official publication of the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky, will be sent to all members of the association who pay their dues. The Kentucky Kernel, the Alumni Association and the University of Kentucky have reached a point in their development where this move is necessary. The use of the student publication as a combined student and alumni organ has been outgrown by our association. Our Alumni Association is moving forward and if we are to take our place in the ranks of the alumni organizations of the larger institutions in the United States we must take every step forward that is possible. It at last has become possible for the beginning of a publication devoted entirely to matter of interest to the alumni. The first issue of the "Kentucky Alumnus" will mark a distinct step forward for our association and one that is sure to meet with enthusiastic approval from a vast majority of the members of the Alumni Association. The first issue will be mailed to you on May 15. The next and final issue for this year will be out June 15. It will be known as the Commencement Number and will give all details of the class reunions and homecoming. No issues will be published during July or August. While this departure may cause regret among some of the younger members of the Alumni Association it is as necessary for us to leave The Kernel as it was for them to leave the undergraduate body. Ours is an association of university graduates and we as an association must continue to move forward even as the individual graduate moves.

NEW DIRECTORY GOES TO PRINTER

Latest List of Members of Association Will Be Out Before June 1; Kernel to Print Booklet.

A new directory containing the names of alumni will be off the press by June 1. It has been announced by the Alumni Office. The new directory will be the first published by the Alumni Association since 1924. The names of all those who have been graduated from the University of Kentucky up to and including the class of 1926 will be included in the new directory which will be complete in every way.

The new directory is being printed and bound by the staff of the Kentucky Kernel and will be the first job this size that the student print shop has attempted so far. The copy has been turned over to the foreman of the shop and work already has been started on the composition of the directory.

The 1929 directory will be a departure from the one published in 1924. Three complete lists of the graduates will be given. First will be the names in alphabetical order, next the list by classes which will contain all the information concerning the different graduates. The last list will be by geographical location. In addition to those who are graduates will be a list of former students who, while they were not graduates, have been loyal and active members of the Alumni Association. The new order will enable alumni to locate classmates, individuals and alumni in a given community with a minimum of trouble and confusion.

There are to be 2,500 copies of the new directory published and no charge will be made to those who are members in good standing of the Alumni Association. Members who pay their dues for the year 1929-1930 will get free copies. No copies will be sent to any person or firm for the purpose of advertising lists. It is planned to have them out before the annual homecoming and class reunions June 1, 2 and 3.

An early check for alumni dues will assure you a copy of the new alumni directory.

STORY FEATURES CLUB PRESIDENT

W. F. Wright, Head of Louisville Alumni, Is Subject of Feature Sketch in Courier-Journal.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, in a recent issue, carried the picture of Walter Franklin Wright, who was graduated from the University of Kentucky with the class of 1914. Along with the picture of Mr. Wright the following sketch appeared:

"Walter F. Wright, lawyer, living at Anchorage, celebrates his fortieth birthday anniversary Thursday. Mr. Wright was born at Manchester, Ky., and was educated in the public schools there and at Lexington, and at the University of Kentucky, where he received both his bachelor of arts and law degrees in 1914.

"Entering the United States army soon after leaving college, he served on the Mexican border in 1916 and was commissioned a second lieutenant on the entry of the United States into the World War. Mr. Wright served a battalion commander of the Fifteenth Field Artillery in France and took part in six major operations on the western front.

"Going to Florida at the end of the war he remained in the south until 1927, when he came to Louisville to practice law with his father, J. W. Wright, with whom he now has offices in the Citizens' building. "Mr. Wright is acting executive officer of the Sixty-third Field Artillery Brigade, Kentucky National Guard, is Assistant State Tax Commissioner, president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Club, a director of the University Club and a member of Jefferson Post of the American Legion.

"The Courier-Journal extends birthday greetings and best wishes for his continued success."

SOCIETY NOTES

APRIL AGAIN

April again; the willow winds are yellow.
Rose-red the brambles that the passing wind knows;
Comes a robin's note like the note of a cello
And across the valley the calling of the crows,
"April again!"

April again; and the marsh birds swinging
Over the rushes that belong to yesterday;
Silver shines the river and young lips are singing
Songs as old as Eden—as old and as dear—
"April again!"

April again; with a wet wind blowing.
And along the western sky a pathway of gold,
Sounds a call to follow the road we're not knowing,
A new road—a wild road—o'er fairy-land unrolled—
"April again!"

April again; with its wonders of gladness,
April with its haunting joy and swift-stinging tears—
Month of mist and music, and the old moon-madness,
Month of magic fluting the spirit only hears—
"April again!"

COLLEGE BABBITTS

Routine! What an impasse the word has come to be in the American university world, where everything is done at the exact moment a class bell rings an insistent summons at the same minute day after day! Students conform their college lives to the devastating effort of doing the same thing at the same time while days, weeks and months slowly chant their procession. The attempts that are made toward diversion accomplish but little, being clouded with the realization that iron-bound requirements necessitate an early return to routine. After a few semesters, students become veritable Babbitts. They resign to the inevitable "standards."

In England, students are not bound by the same requirements. There is a system which tends toward the development of individuality, thus giving a personal appeal to education that creates high interest in study. The great English universities have discovered that technical training alone is not sufficiently productive of great men. In addition there must be developed creative imagination embossed upon learning. Last week, at the Sigma Delta Chi Founders' Day banquet, President McVey stressed the value of imagination, saying that the persons who lack it cannot hope to give anything to the world which will live through the years and decades. His words were truly spoken, for imagination has come to be a sort of fourth dimension in the world of education whereby an added degree of efficiency, a finer finesse, is given to men and women.

One or two American universities have timidly adopted the foreign idea, but only to a limited degree. They feel that it is an experiment, but that is as far as it goes. England has proved it beyond any theoretical viewpoint. Why, then, do our schools look at it with misgivings? It seems to be the better system. It not only incorporates the best points of the American system but adds culture, personal development and creative ability . . . things which the Robots of America fail to confer upon the student who desires to develop his abilities to their highest functions.

The old order is constantly changing, advancing to greater heights, as new vistas of perfection are seen. However, if students are tied down by routine, their eyes become dimmed to those vistas. They become Babbitts pursuing a commonplace existence. They bow to the mechanics of pure technical training without realizing they are committing an educational crime in sacrificing imagination. And, in doing so, they lose the chance to keep perpetually young.

A REPROACH GENTLE

Several years ago, when today's seniors were wearing rompers, the war department had stored in the armory of the University a quantity of ammunition. Some of the cadets had a fondness for it, and the cartridges began to disappear mysteriously, in small amounts.

One of the regular army sergeant instructors, who, although he long since has passed on to be supplanted by our present efficient enlisted instructors, was exceedingly popular with the cadets, concluded that upon his shoulders rested the responsibility of halting the ravages.

One day, at the beginning of each hour, the sergeant arraigned the class before him and informed it of the ammunition disappearance; then, in emphatic tones, he declared: "We don't want no thieves in this here collieth!"

It was amusing. Of course. And the ammunition shortage was nothing more than a prank. Certainly not. But the sergeant said something. He said plenty.

And the words of the sergeant, ungrammatical as they may have been, may be repeated at this time with grim emphasis. From the library come reports that books and bound magazines are strangely missing. The soap dispensers in McVey hall have, apparently, taken themselves away. These are minor things, in which probably no member of the student body participated. Certainly not. A U. K. man is a gentleman and if he is not he soon departs for other climes.

THANK YOU, EASTERN

The recent establishment of a remote control radio station at the University of Kentucky seems to the Progress to constitute a forward step in the development of education in Kentucky. By means of this arrangement with WHAS the vast amount of educational information and talent to be found at the University and in the Blue Grass region is made available to radio audiences everywhere.

The immediate popularity which the programs radiocast from this station have attained demonstrates clearly the interest which Kentuckians everywhere manifest in their educational institutions and the popularity thus obtained cannot help but add to the momentum of the campaign for better schools and school systems in the state which undoubtedly needs an aroused interest in this field more than in any other. It seems to demonstrate that education, like business, must and will utilize to the fullest the advantages for growth which modern science and invention offer.

The Eastern Progress congratulates the University of Kentucky upon the establishment of the station and upon the splendid programs which it has arranged.—Eastern Progress.

COLLEGE COMMENT

A unique course is offered at the University of Texas this year for students whose health makes them unfit for strenuous exercise. The new class is termed the "sleeping course." This must be one class you can sleep through without being bawled out.

A sorority goat at the Oklahoma A. and M. College died as a result of drinking shoe polish at a sorority initiation. The girl was said to have been blindfolded and told that "she must drink a dose of castor oil." She lifted the glass, which really contained shoe polish, to lips and drank. Death followed a few hours later.

A number of Marshall College co-eds are now debating the advisability of taking umbrellas to home economics class in order to insure their cooking efforts from ruin by the carelessness of certain absent-minded college students. The simple cause of all the trouble was a forgotten spigot in the biology laboratory which is located just above the home economics laboratory.

Students at the University of Minas Geraes at San Paulo, Brazil, were present recently when a professor of medicine performed a difficult surgical operation upon himself.

The University of Hawaii has raised the sum of $1,000 to furnish the school a theater. Aware of the Terpsichorean technique which rules the legs of Hawaii, it is sane to predict the new stage will be a stamping ground for hula hulas, and the entire chorus can be attired in one bale of hay.

For the first time in the history of Stanford University a senior boy has graduated with a straight "A" grade in every unit of the 180 required to earn his diploma.

LITERARY SECTION

(MARGARET CUNDIFF, Editor)

Boeckel, Florence Brewer. "Between War and Peace." The MacMillan Co. New York, 1928.

There is a good deal of evidence to indicate that the world is rapidly becoming organized for peace, just as in the past it has been organized for war. So also there is considerable and accumulating evidence that the world is being educated for peace, just as in the past it has been educated for war. This book is one of these evidences. It was written by Miss Boeckel, the education director of the National Council for the Prevention of War, and is distinctly, as its subtitle indicates, a handbook for peace workers.

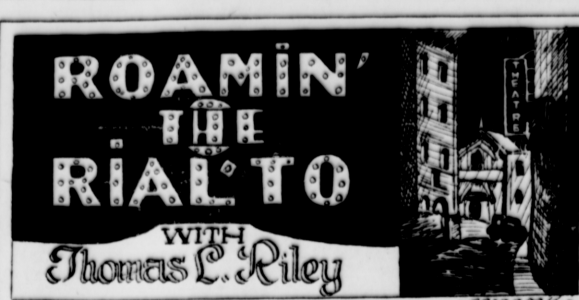

The book is divided into four parts. Part I, the introduction, contains a single chapter on focusing the demand for peace. Part II, which deals with material of interest to special groups, is probably the most effective part of the book. It takes up such questions as education and peace, the church and peace, women and peace, commerce and peace, labor and peace, farmers and peace, war veterans and peace, and young people and peace. The special interest of each of these groups in peace is carefully traced, and presented in a very effective way.

The third part, headed "Introduction to Further Study of Influences for and Against World Peace," though it contains some excellent chapters is less satisfactory. This is no doubt due to the fact that it deals with a large number of technical problems which do not lend themselves to popular presentation, and which can not be adequately treated in a brief review. Among the subjects taken up in this part are the League of Nations, International Labor Organizations, the World Court, the outlawry of war and the Kellogg Treaty, arbitration of international disputes, international law, the Monroe Doctrine, the war making power in the United States government, and war debts and reparations.

A final part on materials for a working program, contains a large number of practical suggestions on what each person can do for peace, and gives a list of the organizations working for peace. It also contains a valuable bibliography.

In spite of certain limitations to which a book of this nature is inevitably subject, "Between War and Peace" is a creditable piece of work and ought to serve as a valuable handbook for peace workers. For all those interested in the problems of peace and war the book contains much useful information.

—AMRY VANDENBOSCH

Yes, here I am back on the pleasant job of telling kind hearted readers all the information fit to print regarding the vast institution of the theater. It has been a great pleasure to me to hear many readers—believe it or not—ask me when I would reopen this department and I only hope that their intelligence will not be too greatly insulted by some of the things I suppose I will write.

Perhaps it would be well to tell you the full meaning of the word "Rialto" in the cut appearing at the head of this column. This word is used almost universally today to denote the theatrical section of any city. It comes from the Italian and was originally used as a name for the Grand Canal district in Venice. Translated, "Rialto" means "deep river." So you see its use is very appropriate here as a great many people will know that what I write is "all wet."

Lexington theaters will boast three extraordinary attractions next week. The final play of the season at the Guignol theater will open Monday night, and what is perhaps the greatest picture of the year will open Sunday as well as the first talking picture to be made by a child star. With those varied productions in store, theatergoers will be amply supplied with entertainment.

The Lafayette Amusement company is to be congratulated on the new State theater. It is indeed a tribute to theater architecture and design and the admission prices for the house are a tribute to clever management. All of which reminds me of an incident of a few days before the opening of the State. I was walking along a hall and some little gum-chewing girl (she must be a freshman) was heard to say: "I think that State is the TACKLEST name for a picture show." Better go back to Podunk, little one, where they stop at the end of each reel.

As the largest extravaganza of the year on the screen "Show Boat," a Universal picture, will open at the Strand Sunday for the world premier at popular prices. This is a picture that cost a huge sum of money and untold trouble in the making but from all accounts it is worth it. You have doubtless heard of the musical comedy of the same name that was produced on Broadway by Florence Ziegfeld and the famous novel by Edna Ferber. The motion picture version is, in reality, two shows. The prologue is composed of the best parts of the stage production recorded in movietone by the actual Ziegfeld cast while the remainder of the picture is the dramatization of Miss Ferber's novel telling the highly romantic story of life on the colorful show boats of the Ohio, Missouri and Mississippi rivers of half a century ago. Harry Pollard directed the picture and the cast is headed by Laura La Plante with Joseph Schildkraut, Otis Harlan and many other big names of stage and screen in support. "Show Boat" is entirely different from anything else that has ever been done in the field of entertainment. See it as a genuine adventure.

By the way, did you know that Lynn Reynolds was assigned the direction of "Show Boat" and about a week before he was to leave California for Paducah, Ky., he committed suicide? This caused Universal all manner of trouble until Harry Pollard was given the job.

Of course you remember the little boy in Al Jolson's "The Singing

An empire hung on that strap

THE hitch must be right, the pack must be tight. On details such as that hung the attainment of the day's goal and the final success of the expedition.

Lewis and Clark, first Americans to cross the continent, knew the importance of "trifles" in the concerted plan. They saw to it their equipment was right, they supervised every step from man-power to pack-horsepower, they applied sure knowledge and constant vigilance to their task.

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

Over on Linden Walk, where the dense foliage of linden tree hides the capricious antics of Delta Zetas and "Tri Deltas," there stands a magnificent colonial edifice dedicated to the Greeks and consecrated to the Declaration of Independence. On first sight one might reach the conclusion that this lately white-washed structure, that reposes in a thicket of milk-weeds and poison ivy, is uninhabited. But if one should don his bathing suit and paddle across the usually inundated driveway he would find, much to his astonishment, that he has approached the rendezvous of a group of actual and "fly-blown" aristocrats.

Because I do not wish to be the defendant in a libel suit or the possessor of a pair of slightly darkened orbits, I will not mention the name of this cult. However, I will disclose a few facts that may be of use to the reader in solving this very perplexing problem.

Since there are five chapters of the fraternity in this state it may be presumed that the basic and fundamental reasons for founding the local chapter was to provide lodging for the "Brothers" enroute between the other four chapters. The most strenuous form of exercise that these gentlemen participate in is to take the poker chips out of the closet on Saturday night and replace them on Monday morning. Occasionally they indulge in a thrilling game of "barnyard golf" behind the chapter house. They drive all types of automobiles — Chryslers, Dodges, Fords, Pontiacs and even cute little red roadsters with the monograms "L. F. D." inscribed thereon. They are the proud possessors of a portly beer keg which they won from the Phi Delta Thetas and which is in as good condition as before the days of Mr. Volstead. (Time allowed for solving this puzzle—exactly one-half second).

The wind whirled about the two bent figures, lashing their numbed faces with stinging flurries of sleet. Sinister, penetrating, the cold wind wrapped their tortured bodies in its freezing embrace. At intervals the hunched figures beat dead hands together, striving to restore a measure of feeling to them. With aching eyes they peered ahead, hoping to glimpse the journey's end. Through the frost-laden blackness of the cold night they moved on and on. With a convulsive motion, one of the figures struggled to draw an overcoat closer about his shuddering form. John and Mary were riding home from the dance in a rumble seat.

'PLAY DAY' IS GIVEN BY W. A. A. AT UNIVERSITY

Co-ed Delegates From Five Colleges Participate in Activities

"PLAY DAY" IS FIRST TO BE HELD IN STATE

Eastern, Western, Transylvania, Georgetown, Centre and U. K. Represented

Approximately one hundred co-eds from five colleges in Kentucky participated in "Play Day" sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association Saturday afternoon in the Men's and Women's gymnasiums. The program started at 12:30 o'clock and continued until 5 o'clock, climaxed at 6:30 by the fourth annual banquet of the association in the gold room of the Lafayette hotel.

Eastern Normal, Georgetown College, Kentucky College for Women, Western Normal and Transylvania University were represented in the meet and the delegates and University of Kentucky girls who took part were divided equally into eight groups, which competed against each other in cage ball, bat ball, relays, and individual challenges. The Rose team gained the greatest number of points, totaling 106, with the Orange and Purple tying for second with 95 each. An exhibition girls' rules basketball game was played between two picked teams of U. K. girls and a group picture was taken.

The games were officiated by visiting physical education instructors, and students and Kentucky alumnae. These were Miss Emile Watzborn, of Atherton High, Louisville; Miss Henrietta Bohmer, of Louisville; Misses Lucille Stoll, Virginia Gill and Helen Manahan, students in the major physical education department of Ohio State University; Miss Virginia Ebert, of Cincinnati University, and Misses Antonette Harrison, Frances Osborne, Bessie Boughton and Georgia Alexander, of Lexington, Kentucky alumnae.

This is the first play day ever to be held in a Kentucky college. By giving it, the Women's Athletic Association and Miss Helen Skinner, director of women's athletics, hope to further the cause that leading institutions throughout the country have started and to promote healthful athletics for women and friendly intercourse between the women of the colleges of the state without the strain and intense rivalry of varsity competition.

Botanical Club Will Meet at U. K. May 2

The Kentucky Botanical Garden Club, an organization devoted to the beautification of lawns and gardens, will be entertained May 2 at the University with the University and Garden clubs of Lexington as hosts. The meeting will open at 10 o'clock in the morning and will continue until 5:30 in the afternoon, when Dr. and Mrs. McVey will be hosts at a tea for the delegates.

Many noted speakers will appear before the assembly, and Miss Ann Callihan, assisted by members of the Brush and Pencil club at University, will present an exhibit of flower paintings. Another feature of entertainment will be a drive over the University campus and farm.

Members of the committee which will greet and entertain the members of the organization are: Miss Mary Didiak, chairman; Mrs. Gilbert Bailey, Mrs. Edward Clark, Miss Carrie Lee Hathaway, Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Mrs. William Case Law, Mary Lindbergh, Mrs. Frank L. McVey, A. J. Olney, Mrs. David Prewitt and Miss Mary Robinson.

PRE-MED FRATERNITY HOLDS INITIATION AND BANQUET

Omega Beta Pi, honorary professional pre-medical fraternity, held its initiation Sunday afternoon, April 21. A banquet was given at the Green Lantern in honor of the initiates.

Those initiated were Harmon Bach, Morse Daughtry, Kendal Holmes, William Hendrichs, George Prewitt, Thomas Milton, Robert Wise and Felix Hall.

The active present were Frank K. Sewell, J. R. Brown, Malcolm Barnes, Fred Farley, Howard Day, Sam Blackburn, Robert Chambers, John Boone, Jerry Adkins, John Prewitt, Andrew Middleton, Paul Davison, Julian Kersheimer, Smith Howard and Griff Morsch.

PSYCHOLOGIST IS DINNER SPEAKER

Dr. C. H. Judd Speaks at Annual Graduate Club Dinner on Reorganization of American Educational System.

"For the first time in the history of the world it is possible for the educational system to do what is necessary and advisable—before, it was impossible due to limitations arising from the demands of society," Dr. Charles Hubbard Judd, psychologist, of the University of Chicago, declared in an address on the "Impending Reorganization of the American Educational System" which he delivered at the annual dinner-meeting of the Graduate Club of the University, at the Phoenix hotel last Tuesday night.

"The impending reorganization or change that is going on at present within the schools," Dr. Judd continued, "is a natural outgrowth of the great improvement of the educational system and allows for the student, after reaching high school or secondary school, to think constructively and to work along original lines. It is indeed a great wrong to confine any student strictly to the text-book."

Dr. Frank LeRond McVey, president of University, and Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, dean of the Graduate School, gave short talks on conditions in and out of the University. Music at the meeting was furnished by the University Brass Quartet, composed of Norman Hainsey, first trumpet; Ralph Hardiman, second trumpet; Eldon Durand, trombone, and Hugh Adcock, baritone.

R. Smith Park, president of the Graduate Club, acted as toastmaster. Approximately 150 members of the club and of the faculty at the University attended the meeting.

New Brass Quartet Plays at Banquet

Feeling the need for more musical organizations on the campus to perform for the various functions held at the University, there has recently been organized a brass quartet. This is a very unique combination and they are seldom found today.

The main handicap has been the lack of musical talent available for such an undertaking but now the organization is in existence and made their first appearance last Tuesday night at the Graduate Club banquet held at the Phoenix hotel.

This is the first of its kind ever found on the campus and they are prepared to appear for any occasion. Such a combination gives the people a chance to know the real qualities of the various instruments. The quartet consists of Norman Hainsey, first trumpet; Ralph Hardiman, second trumpet; Eldon Durand, trombone, and Hugh Adcock, baritone.

both of the College of Agriculture. Wednesday night from 10 to 11 o'clock, the Central Kentucky Choral Society and the University Philharmonic orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Carl A. Lampert, will broadcast a musical program. Thursday, May 9, 12:45 to 1 p. m.—"The Meaning of Music," by Prof. Carl A. Lampert, head of the music department. Rain Halts Frosh-Picadome Contest

Rain sent the Kentucky freshmen and Picadome High school baseball teams to the sheltered showers Saturday afternoon in the eighth inning with the score 4 to 4. The freshmen secured three hits, one a home run by Campbell. Boucher was on the mound for Kentucky and held the high school boys down.

GOLF TOURNEY IS HELD FOR TEAM

Elimination Matches Being Played at Picadome This Week to Select Varsity and Frosh Squads.

Cow pasture pool, ye grand old Scottish game, now comes forward as a minor sport at the University. It has been officially recognized by those high up in authority. At 2 o'clock Tuesday, matches were started on the Picadome course in order to select a team. These matches are scheduled to be over by Saturday.

About 25 ambitious golfers put in their appearance for the play-off. The elimination consists of a 36-hole medal play in which the 12 or 15 making the lowest scores will be selected as the golf squad of the University. From these, a team of five or six will be chosen to play in the matches.

Both freshman and varsity teams will be picked and matches are being arranged for both. The varsity will journey to Pinehurst, N. C., next month, to enter the Southern Conference tournament held there. A few of the outstanding contenders for the varsity are McLemore, England, Larmee, Calloway and Henry Lewis. Jack Barton and Goldie Lewis seem to be about the best out for the freshman squad. Letters and numerals will be awarded at the end of the season.

JUNIOR CLUB VISITS CAMPUS

Seven members of the Lyons junior agricultural club, of Jessamine county, accompanied by County Agent C. C. Shade and Miss Sarah Scott, leader, were visitors at the experiment station farm and buildings last Thursday. These visitors were the first of several parties which Mr. Shade plans to bring to the University, composed of members of Jessamine county junior clubs. It is his plan to give each of these boys and girls a chance to visit Lexington in the near future.

DOUBLE HEADER MAY BREAK JINX

(By Vernon D. Rooks)

All these many years the Kentucky Wildcat baseball team has played second fiddle to the Vanderbilt Commodores; all these many years the Commodores have sailed triumphantly to victory, but their good ship has lost its main sail and the Wildcats have been brewing a storm to break over the Tennessee diamond this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Coach Pat Devereaux has planned to run the Commodores to the rocks in the two-game series, ending Saturday.

Sixteen men left Lexington yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with Coach Devereaux and Manager Jack McGurk en route southward to Nashville. The men who made the trip are Kellogg, Murphy, Kelly, Trott, Layman, McBrayer, McMurray, Rhoads, Augustus, Cole, Barnes, Toth, Gibb, Mauser, Kruger and Covington.

A light workout yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock on Stoll field concluded the 'Cat preparation for the Vandy games. Tuesday afternoon the varsity engaged the Kittens for a spirited five-inning game.

Vandy Has Strong Team
Last year the Commodores collected enough hits to win a 6 to 4 victory over the 'Cats on Stoll field. The football combination that formed the backbone of the team has been broken by the loss of Spears, veteran second baseman, and Creson, pitcher. Armistead will be in the line-up this afternoon. The Vanderbilt club has lost but one game this season and have a 12 to 1 victory over Michigan State to their credit. Coach Devereaux said that the Vanderbilt club was the best in the South.

Kentucky has gathered victories from the University of Louisville, Minnesota, and Centre in their first three starts. The wins over these teams are not considered startling and the game this afternoon will probably serve to test the mettle of the Wildcat nine. Coach Devereaux said that he expected to hold a light workout on Saturday morning.

The same line-up that started the Centre and Minnesota games will start against Vanderbilt this afternoon with Rhoads on the mound. Rhoads gave a brilliant account of himself in his first two games. McBrayer will start the game Saturday afternoon. The lanky right hander has been showing good form since his 10 to 3 victory over Centre.

The outfield includes Kellogg, Layman, Trott, Kelly and Murphy; Rhoads, McBrayer, McMurray and Covington have all performed on the mound, Barnes and Augustus receiving their slants. The infield is a choice between Cole, Covington, Mauser, Kruger, Toth and Gibb.

Intramural Tennis Matches Are Begun With Large Entry

The spring intra-mural tennis tournament got under way Monday with 68 racquet wielders answering the call of the courts. The first round matches will be played off this week and matches will continue until the championship is won. Two beautiful trophies will be presented to the winner and the runner-up.

Better tennis is expected to be displayed in this tournament due to the excellent tennis weather that has prevailed during the last two weeks. The courts have been put in good condition and everything points to a successful tournament.

M. E. Potter, intra-mural director, announced that all matches must be played on time or the players will have to forfeit. The first round matches must be played by Thursday, April 2.

Diamond Ball to Start Next Week In Men's Gym

The intramural diamond ball league will probably get under way this week or next, according to announcement by M. E. Potter, director of intramural athletics, yesterday. Many fraternities and clubs on the campus have signified their intention of entering and it looks as if there will be more teams this year than ever before.

The league will be divided into two classes, the same as in basketball, with each team playing seven or eight games. The winners of each class will play for the University championship, which will bring to a close the activities of the intramural department for the year.

For the past two years the Alpha Sigs have held the upper hand in the diamond ball game, winning their class championship two years in succession. Their excellent record was due entirely to the superb underhand pitching of Deacon

Jones, the blonde "Swede" from Chicago. Jones is a master of the diamond ball game and as he is still in school, his pitching should keep the Alpha Sigs in the running as favorites.

Other clubs may also produce some hidden ace this year and make the league interesting. The Sigma Chis had a good outfit last year and they may come to the front along with the S. A. E.'s, Phi Sigs, Delts and A. T. O.'s. Some of the teams have already been practicing and will be in good shape when the first game is called.

4-H MEMBERS HONORED

The College of Agriculture of the University announced the selection of two boys and two girls who will represent Kentucky at the third annual National 4-H Club camp, in Washington. Those chosen are Lucile Wade, Roberts Charles Mathis, Lexington; Lenore Vaughn, Catlettsburg, and Roy Lee Roman, Jeffersonton.

VANDERBILT MEN WIN TRACK MEET

The Wildcat track men suffered its first defeat of the season when they were overcome by the Vanderbilt thimble on Stoll field last Saturday in a one-sided meet that resulted in an 81½ to 35½ score.

The Vanderbilt team took first and second in a majority of the races and won more points than Kentucky in the field events. They possessed a well rounded team that proved too much for the Wildcats who have to depend on a few outstanding men to make sufficient points to win.

The best performance for the local team was made by the heavyweight shot-putter, Urevig. Urevig seemed contented with a put of 38 feet until he was pressed on his last throw by James of Vanderbilt. Stepping into the ring he heaved the ball 41 feet 1 8-10 inches to win.

Dr. Pryor Is Author Of Medical Paper

Dr. J. W. Pryor, head of the department of anatomy and physiology, is the author of a paper on "Arts-Medical Courses," which is published in the May issue of the "Journal of the Association of American Medical Colleges." This paper deals with the history of the establishment of pre-medical education at the University. This paper was read by Dr. Pryor at the thirty-ninth annual meeting of the association in Indianapolis.

The department of anatomy and physiology was a pioneer in the work of establishing pre-medical education; there were only two schools, Harvard and John Hopkins, to precede the University in the development of this field. To Dr. Pryor goes most of the credit for the development of the courses in this department.

Dr. Pryor has been an active teacher at the University for 39 years, and previous to that he was employed as medical examiner for the institution. Recently he was retired by the University with the title of Professor Emeritus of Anatomy and Physiology, in order that he may do more research work in his particular field.

And the first shall be first and the last will be accused of eating pickles and peanuts when the Kentucky varsity track squad risks its dignity to the prowess of the Freshman thimble on Stoll field tomorrow afternoon. The Cubs expect to take at least four firsts and a string of seconds.

A meet between Kentucky and Centre freshmen, scheduled for tomorrow, has been postponed until next Wednesday afternoon, when the two teams will meet on Stoll field.

The Kentucky frosh showed their heels to Georgetown last Friday, taking every first place but one—that in the pole vault—in a dual meet on Stoll field. The final score was 85 to 32.

Babe Wright, football star, set a new state record for the shot-put, heaving the shot 40 feet, 2½ inches. This record, however, was shattered the next day by Urevig, Kentucky varsity field man, in a meet with Vanderbilt.

Sororities Battle For Tennis Honors

Play Starts With 28 in Singles; Eight Doubles Teams

The Women's Athletic Association tennis tourney has drawn a large group of contestants for the singles and the sorority doubles trophies. Twenty-eight girls have entered the singles matches and eight sororities are represented in the doubles.

In the singles, Katherine Best looks like the probable winner. She is experienced on the courts and has won tournaments in the Blue Grass and in Louisville. Among others who are favored are Mary Brown, Mary Alex O'Hara, Christine Blakeman and Katherine Smith. Each player must have her umpire and must turn in the results of their games to Christine Blakeman at Boyd hall. The first round must be played by May 3; second, by May 9; third, by May 15, and the fourth and finals by May 18.

The eight sororities that are entered in the doubles are Alpha Delta Theta, Kappa Delta Zeta, Tau Alpha, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, Alpha Xi Delta and Alpha Gamma Delta. In the first bracket the Alpha Delta Theta team of Robinson and Smith will battle the Kappa Deltas who are represented by Spradlin and Patton, while the Kappas with Best and Wilson will play Spradlin and Bird of the Zetas. In the lower bracket the Chi Omegas with Brown and Van Buskirk play the Delta Zeta who are represented by Bull and Fennell. Weldt and Poole, Alpha Xi Deltas, play Calhoun and Richardson of the Alpha Gammas. Each team must have its own umpire and report its results to Christine Blakeman at Boyd hall. The first round must be played off by May 1, and the finals by May 7.

Professor Designs Scholarship Chart

Member of Wisconsin Faculty Uses Elaborate Maps to Compare Standings

Freshman engineers at the University of Wisconsin are represented with red, white or blue pine on an elaborate scholarship map designed and used by E. V. Millar, assistant dean of the college of engineering. A large map of Wisconsin is his chart and colored pins, one for each man, are placed at the high schools from which the students were graduated. Civil engineers are shown by red pins, mechanical engineers by black ones, chemical engineers by pink, electrical engineers by orange and mining engineers by blue ones.

A white dot on a pin indicates that the student has been warned about his scholarship or has been placed on probation; a red dot shows that the student has been advised to withdraw or already has been dropped, and a blue ribbon pin tells that the student's marks are good. By this method Dean Millar checks on the trends from the various high schools.

Dean Millar observes that the students who come from mining districts invariably enter mining engineering and those coming from manufacturing centers go into mechanical and electrical engineering. The record is not continued after the freshman year but four years of records are kept for comparisons.

COLONELS PRAY SHOWERS HALT AGAIN IN VAIN

Wildcats Down Centre, 10-3, at Danville for Third Successive Victory of Present Season.

By Lawrence Crump

Coach Pat Devereaux's Wildcats nine extended its winning streak to three consecutive games at the expense of the Centre College Colonels last Saturday, outscoring them 10 to 3 on Cheek field in Danville.

McBrayer, making his first appearance on the mound for Kentucky, pitched a masterful game, striking out 13 men and allowing only seven hits. Kellogg, playing in left field for Kentucky, smashed out a home run in the sixth inning scoring McBrayer ahead of him. Cole and Mauser, each collecting two hits, shared batting honors with Kellogg.

The Colonels threatened early scoring in the first inning on errors by McBrayer and Toth and two hits. Their one run looked big until the third inning when Kentucky counted three, only to have the Colonels tie it up in the fourth as the result of a three-bagger by Lewis which scored Harris.

The Cats scored one more in the fifth and broke loose in the sixth to score six runs. Kelly opened with a double and scored as the result of Pinson's error, on Layman's grounder. Layman was safe at first and went to second when Toth was hit by a pitched ball. Barnes singled to bring Layman across and McBrayer's single scored Toth. Kellogg cleared the bases with a long hit that eluded Shearer in center field. Later in the same stanza Glib was safe on a fielder's choice and scored on Cole's second hit of the day.

SHOWERS HALT BEREA NET MATCH

Tennis matches arranged all of a sudden between the University and Berea College teams, ended all of a sudden Saturday afternoon. Rain put the players to rout soon after the fourth and fifth matches had gotten under way. Coach H. H. Downing, of the Wildcats, believes his crew is entitled to the victory because the three matches that had been completed were won by the Big Blue. Ragland, of Kentucky, defeated Harlow, of Berea, 6-4, 4-6.

6-4; Kee, of Kentucky, defeated Evans, 6-2, 6-4, and Hammersley, of Kentucky, defeated Allen, 6-2, 6-2.

In the fifth match Senff, of Kentucky, had won the first set from Bowman, 8-6, and Bach, of Kentucky, was behind Owens, 2-4, when the rain halted the proceedings. Although the Kentucky racket wielders experienced little difficulty in showing their superiority over their weaker opponents, there cropped out many minor faults which must be ironed out before the coming matches with the larger and stronger colleges of the South.

MAY ISSUE OF LETTERS HAS LITERARY ARRAY

whose "A Window in Bow" appears in this issue of "Letters," is characterized by a rare delicacy and play of mind in the treatment of material. For one who would get a concise, definitive understanding of the Naturalistic Movement, the article, "Zola's Theory of Naturalism," by Prof. W. F. Galloway of the English department of the University, is recommended.

The translation, "A Greek Vaudeville Sketch," by Marion Mills Miller, a New York editor and publisher, is worthy of commendation. Mr. Miller has done more to make the Greek Classics human to the modern reader than any recent translator.

Joe Lee Davis, in his "Greatness in Our Contemporary Literature," writes in somewhat the vein of More and Brownell. He takes up an important problem in American literature and offers a solution which is very interesting. "Aristocracy," by E. C. Litsey, is a picture of a Kentucky type that is rapidly passing away. Jose Miguel Bejarano, a recent convocation speaker at the University, gives a new view on literature in his "Mexico and Its Poets."

The rest of the periodical contains editorials, poetry, book reviews and the column "Why They Are." Forward-looking strength is depicted in the editorials, a sound critical taste in the reviews, and real value in the poetry. It has been said by critics that the poetry in "Letters" is better than the average college literature.

All of the mechanical work on the current issue of "Letters" was done by The Kentucky Kernel. This is the first issue under the management of The Kernel composing room.

Miss Armstrong was a R. O. T. C. battalion sponsor last year and entered the University from Nocom College, New Orleans.

Miss Evelyn Ford is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, vice president of the sophomore class, a member of the W. A. C., a Stroller eligible, and a member of the W. S. G. A. council.

Miss Lucy Davis, of Winchester, is a member of Kappa Gamma Gamma sorority, and a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences. Miss Davis was a May Queen attendant last year.

MEN'S STUDENT COUNCIL REVOKES SOCIAL PRIVILEGES

At a meeting of the Men's Student Council held yesterday afternoon, one man was suspended from the University on a charge of being intoxicated at a dance held last Saturday night. Another student was brought before the council on the same charge and with his social privileges being revoked for the semester, was placed on probation.

Two freshmen who had social privileges removed by the council about two weeks ago, attended another dance recently. Both men were suspended from the University for one week, at a meeting of the council last Tuesday, for their latest infringement on the council's rulings.
